THE SUPREME COURT

Clarke Woods Being Tried for Murder.

The regular meeting of the assize court commenced yesterday morning, when Chief Justice Harvey presided. The criminal docket is an unusually heavy one, consisting as it does of twenty-six charges, most of which are of a serious nature. The most serious case of all, is the charge of murder which has been brought against Clarke Woods, who is alleged to have killed Hector Murray, a contractor, working for the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, by hitting him on the head with a bottle on August the thirty-first, at Bullockville, near Alix. The other cases include charges of forgery, theft, obtaining money by false pretences, horse stealing and the robbery of a store at Pine Lake.

The first case to be called yesterday morning was the case of the King of Woods, in which J. L. Crawford prosecuted on behalf of the Crown, while A. A. MacGillivray, of the firm of MacGillivray and Robertson, of Calgary and Stettler, defended the prisoner. Upwards of a dozen jury men were either ordered to stand aside by the judge or were excused by the defence before the following gentlemen were sworn in:

B. Buck, H. Raikes, J. B. Gillespie, E. Plumb, G. B. Parker and W. Speirs.

J. L. Crawford, in the course of his opening address to the jury, stated that the prisoner, Clarke Woods, was a man who had been working for the firm of contractors known as Holmes, Murray and Sharkey, who during the month of August of this year were engaged in construction work for the G.T.P. near the town of Alix. Woods had been working for this firm for about a week, when on the morning of August the 31st he went into the office of the bookkeeper, Walter Wood, and demanded his time. Hector Murray, the man whom Woods is alleged to have murdered, remonstrated with him, telling him that he should, at any rate, see that a load of hay which he had oversteered a few miles from camp, was brought in safely.

In the afternoon of the same day, Woods arrived at a place up in the grade near the Murray camp, bringing with him four men, two of whom were armed with small clubs. Woods asked Murray once more for his time, saying that he had $50.00 coming to him, and that if he did not get it, he would hit Murray with a bottle of whisky which he held in his hand. Murray replied that if Woods would go to the camp he would get his money, and that if Woods was trying to scare him, he was making a mistake. A few moments later Woods hit Murray with the bottle, and then he and the other three men, who were the resident engineer of the G.T.P., who had driven Murray over from the town, paid Woods the $50.00. Woods retired with his companions, stating that he had got his money, which he had wanted. Hector Murray died seven hours afterwards.

Walter Wood, the bookkeeper of Holmes, Murray and Sharkey, was the first witness. He told the court that Woods came in and asked for his time, and that when he left his time, and the prisoner, Wood, were in amicable conversation. The next witness, E. A. Marshall, related the story of the crime, of which he was an eye-witness. His testimony bore out Mr. Crawford's speech, and was to the effect that he had driven Mr. Murray to a "borrow pit" on the grade where his men were working. On their way from Alix they met Woods and four other men, and after they had been at the pit for a short time, Woods and the other four men came upon the scene. The conversation then took place between Woods and Murray which has been related above, and Woods turned to his friends, saying "What shall I do?" One of them replied "Get your money, kid, that's what you came for."

Woods then hit Murray with the bottle, and Murray fell to the ground and lay unconscious for a minute or more. When he came to, he lit a cigar, concluded his business with one of his workmen named Sturtevant, climbed into the rig, and for the time, seemed none the worse for the blow. Later, however, he was taken violently sick, and when he reached the camp he felt so bad that he was taken into a state of coma from which he never recovered.

J. Sturtevant was the next witness. He also was present when Woods hit Murray with the bottle, but he did not actually see the blow struck. He stated that Woods came up behind Murray in the first instance. Carl Johnston, Fred Johnston, and J. Johnston, accompanied Woods from the town to the spot where he hit Murray, also described how the prisoner inflicted the fatal blow. This concluded the evidence with reference to the infliction of the injury, and Mr. Crawford called Dr. Denovan, of Stettler, Dr. Parsons, of Red Deer, and Dr. Franket, of Stettler, all of whom testified that Hector Murray had died from the effects of a blow on the temple, which had fractured the skull and caused a clot to form on the brain. The brain of the deceased was brought into court and the doctors (continued on last page.)

THOMAS BROWN DEAD.

Prominent Farmer Called.

A sad and fatal accident happened Saturday evening, whereby Thomas Brown, one of the best known and highly respected farmers of the Red Deer district, lost his life.

Mr. Brown was in town making purchases and settling accounts Saturday afternoon, little dreaming of impending disaster. He took home with him a quantity of lumber and some groceries, and other things on top of the load, and it is thought that in trying to keep these things on the load he fell off, and was run over by the wagon. He was found lying in the road by Mr. Howarth and taken to Mr. McCune's, when Dr. Parsons was called by phone, but he was dead before the doctor got to the house. The horses were found a short distance further on, the load still on the wagon. Coroner Dr. George was called, but learning all the facts, did not deem an inquest necessary.

The funeral service took place yesterday afternoon at Stone's undertaking parlors. Rev. Mr. Brown conducted the service. The body was shipped last night to Grunty Centre, Iowa, his old home, for burial. Mr. Brown was born in Lancashire, England, in 1844, and settled in Illinois, U.S., in 1854. He enlisted in the American Federal Army, Company G 13th Iowa, during the civil war, and was honorably discharged in 1865. He fought under Grant and Sherman, at Andersonville, Charleston, Florence and Richmond, and was captured at Atlanta.

He was twice married, first to Ellen Bisby in 1866, who died in 1880, and in 1882 to Lydia M. Wilson, who, with three sons, Thomas Everett, Lyle Edward and Leo B., survive him.

He was deputy sheriff of Grundy County from 1883-3, and sheriff from 1883-5. He always took a keen interest in politics, and was an adherent of the Democratic party. He moved to Red Deer, Alberta, in 1899, and took up his residence in Valley Centre, east of town, in Hillsdale country. He has always been prominent in his district, president of the Conservative club, chairman of the School Board, member of the U.F.A. and a strong supporter of the old agricultural society.

Deceased will be missed in Valley Centre and Red Deer, and the sympathy of the News goes out to the bereaved widow and family in their great affliction.

COUNCILLOR CARSCALLEN'S VIEWS.

To the Editor of The News.
Dear Sir:—May I be permitted to make a few remarks with reference to your editorial in your last issue re. Laurier arch accounts. My purpose is to defend the Council against the charge of having committed a breach of trust, for if that were necessary there are older members of the Board who could more appropriately do so than I, nor is it my object to justify my own action in assenting to the motion that you condemn so strongly. But as a member of the Special Committee appointed by the Council to arrange the Laurier civic reception, perhaps I can throw some light on this question and correct misapprehension on the part of the public. In my opinion your editorial does not truly state the case, at least does not give all the facts bearing upon the matter, without which the public are not in a position to fairly judge of the Council's action.

You refer to "The Laurier Arch built by the Liberal Association." To say the least this is misleading and hardly a fair way of putting it. While as a great deal of the work was done by individual members of the Liberal Association, to be fair, this was the only sense in which it was a Liberal arch.

The Council unanimously decided in view of the Premier's extended visit to tender him a suitable civic reception. Before any programme was arranged and before it was possible for anyone to estimate what would be involved, the sum of $200 was appropriated for the purpose. It was first proposed that the Town erect a small single arch across Ross

Street, organize a procession and take full charge of the first day's entertainment. A committee of the Council was appointed to carry out this programme and co-operate with the Liberal committee, consisting of the Mayor, Councillor Gaetz and myself. After conferring with the other committee it was considered advisable to build one large arch. Mr. J. L. Crawford, a member of the joint committee was appointed to superintend the decorating of same. It was particularly stipulated and agreed to by all that the arch would be decorated with no political mottoes and that it would reflect the welcome of the citizens only, and that it was to be essentially a civic arch. I think the most critical will agree that this was carried out to the letter.

At this time it was impossible to get anything like a definite estimate of the cost and have the undertaking completed in time. Our committee had to make a change of advice to the Council's appropriation would be altogether inadequate to meet our legitimate share of the cost and we felt sure that the grant would be increased. We did not absolutely commit ourselves but intimated to the other committee that the Council would bear at least half the expense of the totality of the arch.

I need not say anything about the value of the arch to the town, except that the commissioners were proud owning of it as a feature of the two days taken and distributed to the leading papers throughout the country, in several of which splendid cuts were printed advertising it as "The Red Deer Arch." Personally, I believe the Town got more than value for every dollar expended.

That it cost too much I am free to admit, as invariably the case in public work of this kind, constructed hurriedly and for a special purpose, though I do not think any of those in charge were responsible for this.

From the reading of your article it might be inferred that the Liberal Association contributed nothing, or but very little, towards the demonstration, and that the Council were hypnotized by an "astute and clever lawyer" into paying "the whole shot." The statements presented to the Council showed that they put up in cash considerably more than we did, though the arch was the outstanding feature of the two days' demonstration. I hardly think I will be accused of holding any brief for the Liberal Association but I simply state the facts as they are known, and that justice be done to all concerned.

The statements presented showed a shortage of $405 which the Council assumed. The total cost of the arch was $496. Outside of this the Council had spent $106 on sundry matters connected with the reception. So that on a basis of bearing one half of the cost of the arch we were increasing our appropriation by $157 instead of "forking over $400" as you state.

We were not bound to do this, except the obligation to pay for value received, but after getting all the facts and figures the Council felt that it was a fair and reasonable cost, and with one exception voted the additional amount, and as the public now know that one member merely asked to be excused from voting, on the ground that he had no opinion either for or against it.

I am, yours truly,
S. N. CARSCALLEN.
Red Deer, Nov. 7th, 1910.

(Note.—Councillor Carscallen handed in the above too late for criticism Monday on our editorial page. We are pleased to publish it. Firstly, he admits the committee intimated to the Liberal committee the Town would bear half the cost of the arch, without consulting the Council. This was wrong. Secondly, he claims the total cost of the arch was $496. The Liberal Association statement claims it cost $561.73. Thirdly, he says the Town spent $106 on sundry matters connected with the reception, and after paying for the arch spent some $157 more for more sundries unmentionable. If Mr. Carscallen would stick to the fact that the town paid for the entire arch, he would appear to better advantage than to be wading all over the footstool to find excuse for furnishing the Liberal party with funds from the public chest to play high links at the expense of the ratepayers.—Ed.)

RESOLUTIONS PROPOSED AT L. I. D. CONVENTION.
Red Deer, Nov. 22 and 23.

27-A-5 — That Ordinance be amended regarding the Bond of the Secretary-Treasurer.

15-W-4 — That each Councilor should be a resident of the township in which he is elected, and that monies collected in a township should be expended in that same township.

27-S-4 — That sub-section 10 of section 48 read "eight hours" instead of "ten hours."

That in section 52, after the word "levied" in line one, the words be inserted "either in cash or labor."

That the following clauses be added to the Local Improvement Ordinance:—
(a)—Before any property be registered as a sub-division, that the registrar compel the owner or agent of such sub-divided property to furnish a statement from the Secretary-Treasurer of the Local Improvement District in which said land is situated, showing that all taxes levied against such property have been paid.
(b)—In the event of forming within the limits of any Local Improvement District a new municipality such as a city, town or village, the arrears of Local Improvement taxes outstanding, if any, against any portion of said area above mentioned must be paid before granting a charter of incorporation or the extension of city limits.

12-Z-4 — That the Department of Public Works be notified by the Land Titles Office of each sub-division registered and also the name of owner or owners of such sub-divisions and the situation of same as to Section Township Range, Meridian and that the Department of Public Works then notify the Secretary-Treasurer of the L.I.D. in which such sub-divisions are situated, so that he may enter them on his assessment roll without making frequent enquiries at the Lands Titles Office.

26-S-4 — That the minimum rate of taxation be 2 cents per acre, and the maximum 10 cents, and that no Government grant be given to any District where L.I.D. taxation is less than 5 cents per acre.

Whereas the Province of Alberta receives at present time from the Federal Government the sum of three hundred and ninety thousand dollars or thereabouts in lieu of Provincial Lands, and 26-C-4 — That the Government be asked to issue a bounty for the destruction of the gopher pest, as we consider that this is of a far greater importance to the farmer than the bounty on the coyotes previously issued, as the farmer has little chance of poisoning them when he is surrounded with open land, C.P.R. lands, etc.

28-R-4 — That a surtax of one and one-quarter cent be charged on all lands owned by speculators in the district. That each Councilor be allowed to work for the amount of the taxes due on his own land under a farm name.

That the rate of taxes levied should not be less than five cents per acre and not more than ten cents in every district.

That it be recommended that when land has been forfeited to the Government for arrears of taxes the Government pay to the District concerned all taxes due.

In view of the fact that there is some doubt as to the present Ordinance authorizing the Secretary-Treasurer to collect arrears of taxes by distraint, that section 50 of the Act be amended so as to include either current tax or arrears of taxes.

In order that all the facts possible be considered by the surveyor before making a proposed survey, that the Government request their surveyors to confer with a committee of the council before making the survey if possible.

In order that the ratepayers in general may be more conversant with the work of the Council, that the Secretary-Treasurer shall make out a complete financial statement of each division which shall show the following items:—Total amount of money received and tax outstanding; Amount expended for road work including a statement of where the work has been done and by whom; Amounts paid for Councilors' fees and general expense; and showing the debit or credit balance. This statement to be read by the Returning Officer before calling for nominations.

That section 48 of the Act be amended by striking out the words "for a day of ten hours" and substituting therefor "a day of eight hours of actual work on the road."

In view of the fact that there is a growing desire in rural districts for increased powers of self government on local questions, and in order to best facilitate the operation of the increased powers desired. That Local Improvement Districts be enlarged not to exceed twelve townships, to be represented by at least eight Councilors and that the chairman be elected by the entire district. And that the following increased powers be granted:—

To borrow money on mortgage to a limited amount for public improvements, the by-law to be submitted to a vote of the District.
To deal with prairie fires and the regulation of fire guards.
To pass special regulations regarding noxious weeds. The District to be given general control of the Noxious Weed Act, the bounds District Ordinance, the Entire Animals Ordinance, and all other questions of a local nature.

18-W-4 — Whereas during the last six years, since the present Local Improvement Districts were organized, Councils have been making requests for deviations from the road allowances, and have been securing agreements from the owners of the land for the purchase of the amount of land for these deviations, sending such agreements to the Department of Public Works, with the recommendation that the agreement should be completed and the necessary survey made by the Department.

And whereas the same answer has been received in almost every case from the Department to the effect that the matter will be attended to the first time the Government Engineer is in the district.
And whereas in many cases this work has been delayed for several years owing to the fact that the engineer did not visit the district.
Be it therefore resolved that the Minister of Public Works be informed of this delay, and that he be requested to remedy same either by the appointment of more engineers or surveyors or by seeing that the present work now waiting on the files is completed, as such delay is causing great inconvenience to all the Districts affected.
That the Department of Public Works be requested to instruct all department road inspectors to confer with the Councils of Local Improvement Districts when government work is being laid out, so that the present plan is not conducive to systematic or harmonious work between the Department and the Local Improvement District Councils.

26-S-4 — That the minimum rate of taxation be 2 cents per acre, and the maximum 10 cents, and that no Government grant be given to any District where L.I.D. taxation is less than 5 cents per acre.

Whereas the Province of Alberta receives at present time from the Federal Government the sum of three hundred and ninety thousand dollars or thereabouts in lieu of Provincial Lands, and

Whereas the amounts appropriated and expended on rural roads throughout the Province in the past few years have been altogether inadequate to meet the need, and

Whereas it is desirable that a fixed annual appropriation be made for rural road construction, such appropriation to increase automatically as population increases, and

Whereas it is absolutely essential, both for the business development of the Province and also for the moral, social and educational well-being of the rural population thereof, that good roads be provided as speedily as possible, so as to give farmers and settlers reasonable access to Markets, and to places of Worship, Schools and other social centres.

Therefore be it resolved that the amount received by the Province annually from the Federal Government in lieu of lands is for the land, and should be expended for the benefit of the land, in building up the rural roads of the Province, and this Convention respectfully requests the Hon. Minister of Public Works to introduce legislation to this effect at this session of the legislature.

Other resolutions will probably be submitted and considered at the Convention.

Arrested on Charge of Stealing Grain.

Alfred N. Cary and Walter Conibear were arrested by Corp. Davies at the former's place, nine miles northeast of Stettler Thursday morning, when the serious charge of stealing grain and were tried before Justices Mitchell and Gray and sent to jail at Fort Saskatchewan to await action of the district court. The information was laid by Ray S. Harrison from whom the grain is alleged to have been taken. The men when asked what they had to say made a confession. It appeared from the evidence that the accused went with their wagons to the granary of Harrison during the early hours of Thursday morning and loaded their wagons with wheat and drove back to their home, which was not far away, only taking the precaution to drive out of the trail and across the prairie to the house. Chas. Dennis, who had missed grain from his granary, had been sitting up several nights on the watch and on the particular morning had got up quite early and happened to notice fresh wagon tracks from his neighbor's house. Upon investigation he found that a felony had been committed and woke Harrison and apprised him of the facts. The men tracked the wagons with the result that the loads of wheat were found standing in front of the accused's place. The officer at Stettler was notified and the arrest followed. Cary and Conibear will also stand trial for the theft of Dennis' grain.

Parisian Sage Cures Dandruff

If it Don't Gaetz-Cornett Drug & Book Co. Will Give You Your Money Back.

Yes, Parisian Sage, the most invigorating hair restorer, cures dandruff and grows hair. The women of Canada, who have luxurious hair know it does, and that is why thousands of attractive women throughout the land are regularly using it.

For years this almost marvelous grower of lustrous and beautiful hair was confined to the elite of Europe and New York City, but about two years ago it was given to a select list of druggists, and today can be obtained in any city or town in America where society women of refinement dwell.

Parisian Sage is the most delightful hair tonic in the world. It makes the hair soft, lustrous and luxuriant in a few days. It is perfumed most delicately and is not sticky or greasy. It stops falling hair, cures dandruff and itching scalp in two weeks or money back.

THE LAURIER ARCH ACCOUNTS

The Advocate chides the News for not opening its mouth in criticism of the Council the whole year. Fox News 1 It apparently wasn't necessary.

The Advocate puts up the same defence of the payment of the Laurier arch accounts as the Liberal association, namely, that the town was benefitted and the town should pay the piper.

In criticizing this stand last week, we stated clearly we had no sympathy with it, and it was not just to the town. We still hold this opinion.

We do not think the grant by the Council was proper, nor do we think it was legal.

Every time the publicity movement shows its head and citizens are about unanimous to aid the idea along, some foolish scheme like this arch account crops up to take the people's money and to put a damper on the movement indefinitely.

The town made a grant of $200 last July on the recommendation of the commissioners. It was thought the reception would cost $500, therefore the town was willing to pay two-fifths. But the reception, by reckless extravagance or foolish expenditure, amounted instead to something like $1100, and the Advocate figures it out that it is perfectly just for the town to keep pace with the politicians, and the more money they spend the bigger proportion of that expenditure should be borne by the town. The whole thing is preposterous, and the most glaring piece of reckless expenditure of public funds, in our opinion, that has ever taken place in the Council.

Nor is this all: While the Council virtually paid for the entire arch, the lumber in the arch was sold and the funds derived therefrom placed to the credit of the Liberal association. Then there were hundreds of flags purchased for the arch that were stored away for a future Liberal demonstration. Also, we understand, a couple of hundred Chinese lanterns were charged up to the arch that were not used on it but were used on private grounds instead.

These are things the people are talking about. Then there was a cheque of a leading Liberal dishonored, as shown by the statement laid before the Council, and this would constitute part of the money the town was justified in making good to the Liberal association, according to the Advocate.

Our Main Street coten drags the political herring across the track and tries to work up sectional sympathy by contending we are trying to bring politics into the discussion. The editor gave those Conservatives who worked and voted for him last December a slap when he said "The Conservative association is called to meet this evening on important business, and no doubt one of the matters which will be urged upon the meeting by some ambitious zealots will be the placing of true blue, narrow gauge Conservatives in the field for Council." We were at the meeting in question and the only reference made to the Advocate's remarks was by President Payne, who said he hoped the remarks would be treated with the contempt they deserved.

Councillor H. H. Gaetz writes a letter to the Advocate, which we publish in another column, in reply to our remarks last week. The commissioners were not asked to deal with the question, as is the custom in all matters of this kind, and the Council dealt with the question direct, taking all responsibility off the shoulders of the commissioners. The letter is a lame excuse for the action of the Council, and does not mend matters to any extent that we can see.

THE FARMERS ALWAYS HAVE THE BIG END TO PAY.

Not only is the manufacturer protected by a high tariff wall by the Laurier government, but manufacturers are allowed a rebate to the extent of tax on their raw product, thus imposing a higher tax on the farmers. This is how the rebate works out: During the year ending March 30th, 1909, the International Harvester Co. received a rebate of $21,557 off the duties paid by that company on imported raw material entering into the manufacture of its finished products. In the same year the Massey-Harris Co. received rebates to the extent of $99,855 through its Toronto factory and $76,118 at its Brantford establishment. The aggregates of the rebates allowed in these three cases is nearly $200,800.

DRUMMOND AND ARTHABASKA.

Thursday last the electors of Drummond and Arthabaska spoke in no uncertain voice as to their choice of a sitting member, and the Liberal candidate was snowed under by over 200 majority, this in a constituency that normally gives Sir Wilfrid Laurier a majority of over one thousand votes.

There was remarkable interest taken in this contest throughout Canada, as it was being contested by a Nationalist, a great friend of Mr. Bourassa, and Sir Wilfrid Laurier had done all in his power to defeat the Nationalist candidate.

It was in this constituency that Sir Wilfrid himself sustained defeat in 1877; a defeat from which the Mackenzie government never recovered. It may well, therefore, be taken as a symptom that his own actions are meeting with the deserts they deserve, as he has ever played into the hands of this very element that may be his downfall.

To such a pass had this been carried that Mr. Oliver Asselin himself, a Nationalist, said: "At the federal elections in 1908 the barefaced racial appeals of Laurierite papers and Laurierite politicians throughout French Canada had become a matter of shame for all self-respecting French Canadians. All the more are these looting wreckers of national unity were passing as the champions of mutual forbearance before the country."

It does look as though the chickens were coming home to roost for the Laurier government, and many predict that this defeat can only have one ending, and the days of the Laurier regime are practically numbered.

Captain Pretymann, of the Royal Navy, calculates that it costs about $500,000 a year to maintain a warship of moderate proportions. His estimate allows $210,000 for wages, $70,000 for food, $120,000 for coal, $45,000 for stores, and $25,000 for gunpowder with which to feed the guns. This estimate would make the running of our ships $3,000,000 a year, without taking into consideration the wear and tear and the repairs.

LIBERAL HOLD ON QUEBEC IS LOST.

Victoriaville, Que., Nov. 9.—The first appeal to French-Canadians on the naval policy resulted today in the defeat of the government. Gilbert the Nationalist candidate, was elected by a majority estimated at 200.

So far as telephonic results go, it is shown that Gilbert won in both Arthabaska and Drummond counties. Drummond, that traditional home of Liberalism, made a change, and gave a majority of 50 for Gilbert.

Really the sweeping victory of the Nationalists surprised them as much as it did the Liberals. Few of them had looked for more than a reduction of the Liberal majority, and it was even said that they had chosen a weak candidate in order to explain away the expected defeat. It was the great silent vote of the people which made the turnover, from a Liberal majority of almost 850 in 1908 to an adverse majority of 200 today.

One of the greatest surprises of the election was the English-speaking vote. There are about 500 English-speaking electors in the riding and it was thought that the anti-imperialist appeals of the Nationalists would have turned these solidly to the Liberal banner, but this was not the case, and apparently a majority of them voted as they were used to, against the government.

In the two recognized English-speaking divisions, Tingwick gave a majority of nine for Perrault, while Stremi gave a majority of 26 to Gilbert. Alverton, which is largely English, gave only 1 for Perrault.

Arthabaska itself, the premier's home, furnished another surprise, and gave a majority of 25 for Perrault. This is the first time since 1877 that the parish has given a Liberal majority.

HOW TO ACCOMPLISH THE OBJECT.

Ridgeway Dominion (Con.) A voter writes us: "You say that both parties are high tariff parties now. That the leaders of both parties and the leading newspapers are tied to the protected interests. What remedy have the voters in both parties who believe in lower tariff?"

The only remedy we see is agitation and more independence of party. Let the lower tariff Conservatives see to it that the conventions place in nomination the Conservative candidates pledged to lower tariff. Let the Liberal low tariff men make sure that the Liberal candidates who receive nominations are lower tariff men. If both parties nominate candidates pledged to lower tariff the voter may vote his party ticket. If only one favors low tariff, let the low tariff men unite in supporting him. This is the remedy and the only one. Let each party elect a score of men who are sincerely in favor of tariff revision downward and there will be something doing at Ottawa. Remember we have said "sincerely." Do not take a man at his mere word. Voters in each riding should know the candidates well enough to size up their professions and gauge the situation accordingly. The cities and big towns will mostly stand for protection. The pressure for a revision of tariff downward must come from the rural constituencies in the east as well as in the west.

According to the census of 1901, Drummond and Arthabaska has a total population of 44,484. Of these 11,045 are French, 3,393 are English and Scotch, 45 German and 61 of other nationalities. There are 42,062 Roman Catholics in the constituency and 2,422 Protestants. In 1896, Mr. Joseph Lavergne, law partner of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, and now one of the Superior Court Judges of Quebec, was elected by 1,206. In a bye-election on November 13th, 1897, caused by Mr. Lavergne's appointment to the Bench, the Liberal majority was 1,048. In 1900 Mr. Louis Lavergne was returned by acclamation. In 1904 his majority was 2,476. In 1908 no Conservative candidate appeared. Two Liberals contested the constituency, but again Mr. Louis Lavergne was returned by 834 of a majority. Armand Lavergne, Mr. Bourassa's first lieutenant, was born in Drummond and Arthabaska. There for a quarter of a century his father and Sir Wilfrid Laurier were law partners. Both lived at Arthabaskaville. Both at one time or other represented the constituency. It is remarkable that in this country the Nationalist group should issue its first decisive challenge to the Ottawa government, and that one of the leaders of the movement should be a son of the man with whom the Prime Minister had such a long and honorable professional connection.

What fools we mortals be! Mr. Sifton, the great conservator of our national resources, stood by at Ottawa last session and witnessed without protest the greater portion of Canada's water powers all but voted away. And now he has the cool assurance to pose as a protector of public interests.

J. M. Mussion, Canadian Trade Commissioner in Leeds, says many electrical furnaces for the manufacture of steel are in construction or in operation in different parts of England. In some cases single furnaces have been producing two hundred tons of steel a day for more than sixteen months.

It is evident that the electrical process of manufacturing steel has passed the experimental stage.

Among those attending the Provincial S. S. Convention at Calgary last week were: Rev. C. H. Huettis, Rev. N. D. Keith, Rev. J. E. Tyner, Mrs. G. W. Smith, Miss Smith, Miss Chalmers, E. M. Wilson, F. Plank, and Mrs. Richardson.

Sir Oliver Lodge, in an article in London Public opinion, says the taking of energetic measures for the extermination of insect pests which now cause the spread of disease in tropical countries promises to open up vast territories of exceedingly fertile territory to races of white men. The prediction is interesting, and is made by an authority not to be slightly set aside. If it is verified the effect on the world's food situation will be far-reaching. In the tropics two and three crops a year can be produced, and if life there can be made endurable to those who will make these areas productive, a transformation in the food situation of world-wide importance will be brought about.

HORSE THIEF SENTENCED

Lethbridge, Nov. 2.—Walter Howard of Montana, was to-day found guilty in the supreme court of stealing horses on the Canadian side of the line, near Cardston, and was sentenced to five years in the penitentiary by Chief Justice Harvey. The track of a horse with a broken toe caulk on the shoe was largely instrumental in placing guilt on Howard.

HOCKEY.

UNACCOUNTABLE MISTAKE CAUSES CALGARY TROUBLE.

(Strathcona Plaindealer)

Down in Calgary the sport writers have once more stirred up the trouble pot and fished out what they term an "awful mess" presumably through some misunderstanding about the proposed annual meeting of the Alberta Amateur Hockey Association which is to take place in Red Deer, next Saturday, Nov. 12. It appears that out of all the important mist that has arisen in the south town this fall about reorganizing the league on a really provincial basis, with everything apparently centering about Calgary, two delegates travelling north under the cognomen of Steve Clancy and Joe Moir, emerged from the fog last Tuesday with the idea that the meeting was to confer with them at Red Deer that night, though where this information emanated from is a mystery.

The secretary of the A. A. H. A. is Chas. Graban, of Strathcona, and the official announcement of the coming meeting was made by him only last Wednesday, and this calls for the annual meeting in Red Deer next Saturday night. No other notice has been given out and how the southern partisans of the great game got it into their craniums that the delegates were to foregather this week cannot very well be explained by any person outside Calgary. It seems that the one who thing for the sporting fraternity of our ambitious neighbor to the south to do is to consider some other barge in this splendid idea for a provincial league, and not to throw off the governor belt first thing at their own unaccountable mistake.

ECKVILLE

The C.N.R. surveyors have moved further west.

The A.C.R. main camp is now located on the river, two miles south of here. Owing to the frost a number of teams have been laid off.

It is reported that the Eckville hotel has changed hands.

Bert McLeod of the C. W. Parke implement house, was out on business last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Clausen have moved into the store for good. O. M. Forham goes east in a few days to visit his old home.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Holloway passed through on their way to Red Deer. Don't forget the next Ekville dance, Friday, the 25th. The Kiwan Bros. will provide the music.

H. H. Gaetz Expresses Himself

The Editor Red Deer Advocate:—Sir,—Having noticed the charge made in an editorial of the News of the 2nd inst. to the effect that the principles of our commission form of government were violated by the action of the Council at its last meeting, in connection with the voting of a further appropriation toward the cost of the civic arch at the Laurier Demonstration, and further that I, who am credited with being "the father of government by commission in Red Deer" was chiefly responsible for the wrong done, I beg that you will permit me space to briefly reply.

I do not propose to discuss the merits of the question as that was thoroughly done at the Council meeting and the resolution passed without dissent except for the request of one councillor that he be excused from expressing himself either for or against the resolution covering the appropriation; nor shall I refer to the question of personal motives which have been imputed.

For the credit of the Council as a whole and for the information of my friend the editor of the News I would like to point out however that one of the underlying principles of our form of municipal government is the sole jurisdiction of the Council in the matter of voting appropriations. This is no part of the duty of the Commission.

There is no reason why the Commission should not make a recommendation for or against any appropriation of the Council if they are requested to do so, or, of their own accord, if they have information on the subject and are so disposed.

The Commissioners in this case evidently did not see the necessity of referring to it in their report though all the information, voucher and accounts on the subject had been in their possession for two weeks preceding the meeting and notice had been given to the Council at the previous meeting that the request would be presented and all the papers brought down.

This looks like a clean straight piece of business to me Mr. Editor, and I think it will so appear to the Editor of the News when he has the information here presented.

Yours faithfully,
H. H. GAETZ.
Red Deer, Alta., Nov. 3, 1910.

J. M. Thom, who was during the administration of the Rutherford government, the private secretary of Hon. C. W. Campbell, has been appointed chief clerk and secretary of the agricultural department of the provincial government, under the Hon. Duncan Marshall, minister of agriculture. J. A. Jaffray, former chief clerk of that department, has been appointed assistant provincial librarian.

Red Deer Deanery.

A fairly representative gathering of the Anglican and Episcopal clergy in the district met in town last Wednesday and Thursday. The deanery embraces the country as far north as Ponoka and as far south as Didsbury, while the Rockies form the western boundary and the Saskatchewan province the eastern boundary.

Evening, with a sermon by the Rev. Patstone of Lacombe, was held in St. Luke's church on Wednesday evening, and there was Holy Communion at 8 a.m. the following morning.

One session was occupied with matters in connection with parochial organization and Sunday School work. Another was devoted to scriptural study, when papers by the Revs. Whitehead, Moore and Haddon led the discussion.

By desire of the Bishop, the clergy chose one of their number for the Bishop to appoint as Rural Dean in the place of the Rev. Greaves. By unanimous vote, the senior member, the Rev. Whitehead, of Innisfail, was elected.

The third session concluded with the drawing up of a programme for the next meeting in February, and votes of thanks to the members of St. Luke's congregation, who extended hospitality to the visiting clergy. With regard to the movement, on foot for local option in the matter of liquor license, no resolution was passed; but it was resolved that the clergy should know clearly the present liquor license ordinance and press for the strictest enforcement of the law.

Representatives from U. S. Will Discuss Freer Trade

Ottawa, Nov. 2.—Announcement that tariff reform negotiations with the United States will be resumed in Ottawa on Saturday next is confirmed by Hon. W. S. Fielding who has been notified that Hon. J. S. Foster, American consul-general at Ottawa; Henry M. Hoyt and Charles Pepper will represent the United States at the preliminary conference.

Canada will be represented by Hon. W. S. Fielding and Hon. William Paterson.

The expectation here is that if an agreement is arrived at it will be along the lines of freer interchange of natural products with some reduction in duties of a limited number of manufactures including agricultural machinery. There is no expectation here that negotiations will be concluded before the end of the month, as is indicated in a Washington dispatch.

After the preliminary conference, there is likely to be an adjournment for two or three weeks in order to consider the proposals made, and in subsequent negotiations Secretary Knox and perhaps Sir Wilfrid Laurier will take part. It is not likely that there will be any agreement ready for submission to parliament until after the house resumes sitting in January subsequent to the Christmas holidays.

THE INTERNATIONAL PRISON CONGRESS

"Every country in Europe," says Superintendent R. B. Chadwick, who represented the province of Alberta, "sent a delegate to the International Prison Congress, which was held at Washington, D.C."

"It was interesting to look into the faces of Chinese and Japanese ministers, judges, doctors of law, and university professors from South America, Africa and various islands of the ocean, and to know that in the name of one common interest which has for its object the uplifting of weak and erring humanity, they were assembled together."

"Reviewing the convention as a whole, one is confronted with the great advance not only in prison administration but in penal law. The experience of the past has clearly proved that reformation is the best deterrent along lines of crime. The aim of prison systems today is to educate the criminal to the point of normal citizenship. And to do this speedily and effectively he must be reformed by measures which have been traced to his conception and misinterpretation of the vindictive element of punishment."

"The discovery of the application of steam to locomotion marked new eras in the annals of crime. Rapid transit has made it a matter of international concern to meet with the International Prison Congress has come largely into its usefulness for when experienced workers and reformers are gathered together in the common effort to suppress, eradicate and prevent crime, the problems at the very root of it are bound to come up, and out of the circle of a vast representation be discussed from every bearing and viewpoint."

"What are the sources of crime?" is a question which was often met, searching study for only so far as this is correctly diagnosed in the individual case and in its general effect can we answer it. "How can crime be prevented?" In such a congress the various methods of dealing with criminals in order to bring them to the standard of civilized life and to abiding individuals, were freely compared and discussed.

"The great majority of practical thinking people who form the backbone of good citizenship in civilized countries, are deeply interested not only in the prevention of crime in young people but in protecting children from demoralizing influences and environment. But, strange to relate, these matters are left almost entirely in the hands of those directly associated with the prevention and punishment of crime. The members of the Prison Congress at Washington were favored with a many sided presentation of these perplexing problems."

"Section One of the Congress dealt with Criminal Law, a subject which, while wholly engrossing, those of a legal turn of mind, is not without interest to the majority of people in that it stands for various measures of reform. A very interesting paper—'What part does death penalty play in the penal systems of various countries?'—and the discussions following the same brought out the fact which is sure to impress most of us that Russia has no capital punishment. Murderers and those whom the finding of the judge declares traitors are alike condemned to Siberia's dreary miles but their lives are not taken unless sentence be passed by court martial. Among other questions, which will give you the gist of the subject matter of Section One, are the following: 'How and in what manner may effect be given to penal sentences pronounced by the courts?' 'An entire section of the Congress was devoted to 'prevention' and as the general public have more power to enter into preventive measures by educating the children and lending the helping hand to the needy, than perhaps any organized body, this section would hold the greatest amount of interest. Under this heading were respectively taken up 'protection', 'vagrancy', 'families of prisoners' and 'inmates'."

Probation has been found to more effectively meet the needs of the weakling, the borderlander or crime and the first offender than any other system. We are often face to face with the man who needs the same wholesome advice of a clearheaded friend, and a warm hand laid on his shoulder. There is more tonic in it, and more quick, genuine response, than when the heavy hand of the law seizes a man. The delegates took up the question—'What is the duty of the government towards the criminal who poses as a pauper or a weakling of some description. Excellent and exhaustive were the many papers contributed on these subjects, but they all hinged on the one great point that the soul of the man, the inner life, must first be touched before there could be any definite use of his being re-adjusted to the requirements of citizenship."

"A very marked feature of this Congress," concluded Supt. Chadwick, "was the general atmosphere of hopefulness. That this hope is well grounded in workable principles, the results of the next few years will unquestionably determine."

The District of Rocky Mountain House.

The Rocky Mountain House Echo has this to say of the district in that vicinity:

A few people claim that the settlers here are looking forward to greater things than we will ever see. This may be so; but time will tell. We know that they are looking forward to a bright future and they have every reason to do so.

Have we not as good a climate as you will find anywhere in Alberta? Is it not as good a district for mixed farming as any? and the water all over the country is the very best that can be found in the province.

The country to the west of us is all underlaid with coal; and it is no poor stuff either. We are at the junction of two great rivers, the Saskatchewan and Clearwater, up these rivers are big timber berths, and its an old saying that logs would sooner float down stream than up. To the east of the old post there is the best of day for making bricks. On the banks of the river, to the north, there is any amount of good quarry stone. Beaver Island could easily be made a nice summer resort, while Jack-fish lake, the west, would be an ideal spot for campers.

There is every chance of the C.N.R. and A.C.R. making divisional points here. Now! do you wonder why we are looking forward to a bright future and a good sized town in a few years?

Tourists travel for miles to see the Rocky Mountains, while every settler in the district here has a near view of them from their doorstep, and we must admit that they are a beautiful and wonderful sight.

We are in as good a place as there is in Alberta, but we are still looking for more wealth to turn up, and it is to be hoped the settlers will get it, for they certainly deserve it, after the hardships of pioneer life.

ALBERTA'S REPRESENTATION AFTER THE CENSUS.

(Edmonton Journal)

If the statement made by the chief of the Alberta publicity department, recently, that this province will, by the date of the next census, have the necessary 400,000 population which entitles Alberta to an increased subsidy, proves to be correct, Alberta will then be entitled to fourteen members in the Dominion House, which will be a greater number than Prince Edward Island, New Brunswick, Manitoba, Saskatchewan or British Columbia has at the present time, and a greater number than Prince Edward Island is, New Brunswick or British Columbia will have after the census and the next redistribution.

Representation in Canada is based upon the population of the province of Quebec. According to the British North America Act, Quebec is entitled to 65 members and the representation of the other provinces is estimated upon one member for every one-sixty-fifth of the population of Quebec.

At the present time the representation is on a basis of one member for every 25,366, which is one-sixty-fifth of 1,648,898, the population of Quebec at the time of the last Dominion census.

It is conservatively estimated by those in touch that at the time of the census next year the basis of representation in Quebec will have increased to somewhere in the neighborhood of 28,000.

On this basis, Alberta with 400,000 would get 14 members and British Columbia, with 300,000 people, 11 members.

A SPECTACULAR OPPORTUNITY.

Readers of The News will appreciate the arrangement just completed with The Toronto News. Under this arrangement we are able to offer The Toronto Daily News and The News to readers at $2.20. The News is one of the most progressive and reliable papers in the East, and has a circulation which is distributed from Halifax to Vancouver. The news of the world comes to the News office over leased wires, and as a newspaper there is nothing better in Canada.

Footballer's Bad Knee Healed

Zam-Buk Once Again the only Cure.

Mr. H. Allison, of 457 King Street, London, Ont., says: "While a member of the East Kent Division Football Team and during a rough and exciting game of football, I fell on the hard ground, sustaining a badly lacerated knee. This required prompt medical service, and sand and gravel filled the open wound, which was very painful and sore."

"For several weeks the doctor treated my injury, and it was thought to be well healed over; but no sooner had I begun to move about than the skin broke, and I suffered more than at first. For seven long weeks I was actually laid up. It then developed into a running sore, and I was alarmed for fear the result might be a permanently stiff knee. The doctor's treatment failed to heal the wound, so I procured a supply of Zam-Buk."

"It was almost magical in its effect on the sore. The discharging soon ceased. The soreness and pains were banished and perseverance with Zam-Buk made the badly lacerated knee as good and firm as ever. Zam-Buk has no equal in clearing and healing open wounds, and I recommend it to all athletes and sportsmen."

Zam-Buk will also be found a sure cure for cold sores, chapped hands, frost bite, ulcers, eczema, blood-poison, varicose sores, piles, scalds, burns, ringworm, infected patches, babies' eruptions, and chapped places, cuts, burns, bruises and skin diseases generally. All druggists and chemists sell at 50c. a box, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, upon receipt of price. You are warned against harmful imitations and substitutes. See the registered name "Zam-Buk" on every package before buying.

A. Fead received word by telephone Sunday of the dangerous illness of his sister, who resides several miles east of Innisfail. He at once left for her home.

Mrs. W. J. McLean and children left for Wainwright on Monday to meet her husband, W. J. McLean, principal of Wainwright school. Mrs. Cole accompanied her to Edmonton.

P. J. Loizeaux, of New York, U.S.A., will give a gospel address in the Presbyterian church on Wednesday evening, and also in the Baptist church on Thursday evening. Every one come that can come. Mr. Loizeaux is an evangelist well worth hearing, and does not adopt any sensational methods.

W. J. Botterill has opened up a real estate office in the Alberta hotel block, and will conduct a branch of the well known firm of Latimer, Botterill & Hill here. Mrs. Botterill and family have also arrived and taken up their residence at the Alberta hotel. Mrs. Botterill is a very capable business woman, and we are glad to have ex-Mayor Botterill with us again, as he will be a splendid addition to our business men.

Don't forget the illustrated lecture in the Presbyterian church on Tuesday evening, Nov. 15, at 8 o'clock. The subject will be "Shadows of a Great City" and depicts slum life in one of the modern Babylonians. About 140 views, many of them beautifully colored, are shown on the screen, and the views are each explained by Rev. L. Ernest Gosling. Mr. Grant, of Penhold, operates the lantern.

While W. Hewson & Sons were taking the large safe formerly used by the town, in H. H. Fortunately, Cecil Hewson, who was below, made a sprint and got out of the way, otherwise he would have been crushed to a pulp. No other damage resulted from the break.

The Williams Jubilee singers will appear at the Lyric Theatre, Thursday, Nov. 10th, under the auspices of the Young People's Society, Presbyterian church. This is an exceedingly high class company, having left a very favorable impression here three years ago. The company carry testimonials from all over the world. Mr. R. C. Brumpton has kindly consented to allow the use of the piano, which is being so keenly contested, for the evening. The music will be a rare treat for all. Tickets for sale at Gaetz-Cornett. Admission 75c.

Don't forget the harvest supper at the Oddfellows' Hall on Thursday evening, which the Women's Guild of St. Luke's church, assisted by the Balmoral Guild, are putting up. The supper will be served from 6 o'clock onwards, and will be followed by a concert at 8.30. Songs, duets and whistling solos will be included in a bright programme. Tickets for the supper, which includes the concert, can be obtained beforehand or at the door—50 cents each. Candies and attractive cakes, etc., will also be on sale; also a famous pork pie for competition. Come one; come all.

FLOUR MILL FOR RED DEER.

Alberta Pacific Elevator Co. to Install Plant.

Geo. W. Greene, President of the Board of Trade, who has been very diligent in his efforts to secure a mill in Red Deer, informs us that the Alberta Pacific Elevator Company have decided to install a grain elevating plant in connection with their elevator here, and have already ordered the necessary machinery. The probability is that the capacity will be about thirty barrels a day. The company have no desire to grind for outside trade but only to supply local demand, and fill a long felt want on behalf of the farmers of the district. The mill will be installed for a period of thirty days, and if the farmers do not avail themselves of the opportunity afforded, the machinery will be used for other purposes. We hope every farmer in the district will bring in a grain and give the mill a trial, when we feel satisfied they will not be disappointed.

The R. C. church are getting ready for their annual concert, which will be given in the Lyric on the Wednesday, 30th of November. The pupils of the St. Joseph's convent will take part in it.

The Rev. Canon Tucker, of Toronto is coming to town on Tuesday, the 22nd, when he will give an address in St. Luke's church that evening. Canon Tucker is well known from one end of the Dominion to the other as a leading and inspiring speaker, Penhold.

The Ladies' Aid of Ridgewood Presbyterian church are having a dinner and concert on Wednesday evening, Nov. 10th. Dinner will be served from 7 to 9, and after dinner a fine mixed program has been prepared. Ridgewood socials need no recommending, as they always give a good account of themselves, and as seating capacity is limited, we would say in the language of the salesman—come early and avoid the crush.

Mrs. J. Norquay had a narrow escape Monday evening. She was driving with Mr. Norquay, when one of the draw bolts came out and the horses started to run away from near W. E. Payne's residence. Mrs. Norquay jumped out and fell on her head, and was picked up in a few minutes unconscious by Mr. Norquay, who had succeeded in stopping the horses. She was taken to Dr. Parsons and soon recovered. She is much better to-day, and it is expected no ill effects will result from the fall.

A choir of twenty-five voices, under the direction of Mr. J. E. Walton, presiding at the piano, will render the beautiful sacred cantata "The Gardens of the Lord," in the Methodist church on Tuesday evening, the 15th, at 8.15 o'clock. The choir of the church is being assisted on this occasion by representatives from the other choirs, and a rare treat is promised all who attend. The admission is within the reach of all, only 25 cents, so a crowded church is expected. Come early.

The Valley Centre Literary Society have postponed their meeting called for Friday evening next, 11th inst., to a future date, owing to the death of Mr. Thomas Brown.

PUBLIC NOTICE.

This is to certify that I have withdrawn from the firm of Wells & Wells from the 1st day of November, 1910, and have bought out the entire interests of Mr. R. Reid of the late firm of Reid & Fead, general blacksmiths of Red Deer, and as this is a big undertaking, I wish to call attention of all those owing accounts to the said firm, that it is necessary that the same be handed in at an early date in order that I may meet my obligations with Mr. Reid. Thanking the customers, on behalf of the old firm, for their patronage, and offering you the same good satisfaction in the future, you will find me at your service at Wells & Fead's general blacksmith and carriage repair shop, Red Deer.

C. A. WELLS.
Dated at Red Deer this seventh day of November, 1910.
